

Summary

The Let's Teach English video series offers free online training for English language educators worldwide. It is based on the Women Teaching Women English text for adult, beginning level learners. Voice of America and the University of Oregon are partners on this project. The course includes:

1. An introductory video which summarizes the main topics of second language teaching and shows classroom examples of the topics.
2. Ten 5-minute video episodes based on the units of Women Teaching Women English. Each of these episodes provides a model of communicative language teaching through simulated language classroom interaction. The course can be used by men and women.
3. English teaching materials from the course, Women Teaching Women English. The student book, teacher's manual, and audio files can be accessed for each unit. This course is the result of a collaboration between the University of Oregon American English Institute and the U.S. Department of State.

Teaching Topics

Click on the image below for more details about the course and these teaching topics.

1. Theory of Constructivism
2. Communicative Language Teaching (CLT) Method
3. Learner-Centered Practices and Active Learning

The Let's Teach English video series offers free online training for English language educators worldwide. It is based on the Women Teaching Women English text for adult, beginning level learners. Voice of America and the University of Oregon are partners on this project. The course includes:

1. An introductory segment which summarizes the main topics of second language teaching and shows classroom examples of the topics.

2. Ten 5-minute video episodes based on the units of Women Teaching Women English. Each of these episodes provides a model of communicative language teaching through simulated language classroom interaction.
3. Updated digital downloads of the Women Teaching Women English student book, teacher's manual, and audio files.