

Music for Particular Uses

For clear thinking or studying

- J.S. Bach: Brandenburg concertos
- J.S. Bach: Fantasy for organ in G major
- J.S. Bach: Fantasy in C minor
- J.S. Bach: Organ fugue in E flat major
- J.S. Bach: Prelude and Fugue in G major
- Telemann: Concerto for three violins
- Brahms: Violin concerto
- Handel: Water Music

For relaxing or relieving stress

- J.S. Bach: Air on a G String
- Pachelbel: Canon in D
- Mozart: Concerto for flute and harp
- Vivaldi: Flute concertos
- Beethoven: Symphony #6

For relieving depression

- Beethoven: Emperor Concerto
- Mozart: Symphony #35, "Haffner"
- Rachmaninoff: Piano Concerto #2 (last movement)

For meditating

- Vaughan Williams: Fantasie on Theme of Thomas Tallis
- Paul Horn: Inside the Taj Mahal
- Humperdinck: Children's prayer from the opera Hansel and Gretel
- Handel: Largo from the opera Xerxes
- J.S. Bach: Come, Sweet Death
- J.S. Bach: Toccata and Fugue in D minor
- Bruckner: Symphony #8 (third movement)
- Wagner: Prelude to Act 1 of the opera Lohengrin

For quieting your classroom

- Pachelbel: Canon in D
- Mozart: Concerto for flute and harp
- Telemann: Flute concerto
- James Galway (flutist): The Magic Flute
- Mendelssohn: Midsummer Night's Dream

For airing anger

- Beethoven: Egmont Overture
- Brahms: Piano Concerto #1